ALL ROADS LEAD TOWARD NEW YORK

Pilgrims from Every Corner to Welcome Roosevelt.

Preparations for Unusual Demonstration Complete.

NEW YORK, June 16.—From almost every corner of the land pilgrims are making their way today to New York to take part in the welcome home Saturday morning of Theodore Roosevelt. Preparations, which have been under way for several weeks, are virtually completed, and when Colonel Roosevelt steps from the liner which is bearing him home to revenue cutter Androscoggin the machinery will be set in motion for what is expected to be one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the kind ever held.

From Los Angeles the Hilliken Club, 100 strong, is traveling to New York on a special car, due here tonight From Santa Fe, New Mexico, another delegation is coming. Little Rock, Omaha, Salt Lake City, Helena, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago, Atlanta, Knoxville, Columbia, S. C.; Cleveland, Columbus, Ohio; Cincinnati, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Boston and scores of other cities near and far are making their contributions of clubs, societies and individuals, all of whom are coming here for the purpose of gazing for a minute or two on the features of the distinguished American.

The celebration will consist of two main features: the water parade and the land parade. Hundreds of vessels will take part in the former, while the festivities on land will engage countless thousands, either as marchers or as spectators. Those in the line of march will be limited to a few thousands, for the Roosevelt reception committee weeks ago had received applications for admission to the line from so many organizations that it would have taken all day for them to pass a given point. Accordingly, it was decided to assign these organizations to stations along the line of march, and to restrict the parade to the Rough Riders and the Spanish War veterans as an escort to Mr. Roosevelt.

The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria is expected to arrive at Quarantine at 9 o'clock. An hour before that time Mayor Gaynor's committee of 300, the governors here for the occasion and other notable guests will board the Androscoggin and sail down the harbor to extend first greetings. About 100 other vessels will accompany the Androscoggin down the bay. As soon as the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria comes to anchor Mr Roosevelt will be taken on the cutter. Mrs Roosevelt, Kermit Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Roosevelt will be transferred to revenue cutter Manhattan. As soon as the transfer is made the Androscoggin will take her place at the head of a double column of excursion steamers, private yachts and tugs and the naval parade will begin every vessel in the fleet saluting the ex-President with a continuous blast of steam whistles for two minutes. Battleship South Carolina will be stationed in Ambrose channel to greet Mr Roosevelt with the national salute of 21 guns.

The fleet will proceed up the Hudson river to Fifty-ninth street and back to the Battery, where Colonel Roosevelt is to land at about 11 o'clock. There he will be received by Mayor Gaynor. A stand will seat 600 official guests and the mayor's committee. The mayor will speak first, Mr. Roosevelt responding. This is expected to be the only public speaking of the day's exercises.

Among those who have accepted invitations to sit in the guests' stand are Governor Quinby of New Hampshire, Governor Fort of New Jersey, Secretary of the Navy, Meyer, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Captain Butt, the President's aide, who is to bring a letter of greeting from President Taft; Senator Flint of California, Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor; Lawrense O. Murray, comptroller of the currency; Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Attorney General O'Malley of New York, Gifford Pinchot, Dr. Leo S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania and General Luke E. Wright.

When the speech-making is ended the land parade will be formed. The Roosevelt Rough Riders, commanded by Charles E. Hunter of Oklahoma City, will lead, preceded by a squadron of police and a police band. Following the Rough Riders will be carriages containing Mr. Roosevelt, the mayor and Cornelius Vanderbilt, chairman of the reception committee. This will be followed by about 6,000 Spanish War Veterans, as an escort in the committee members, who will ride in carriages.

The line of march will be up Battery place to Broadway, up Broadway to Waverly place, thence to Fifth avenue and up Fifth avenue to Fifty-ninth street, where the parade will disband. Upwards of 20,000 persons, comprising local and visiting organizations will have positions on Fifth avenue for the parade. After the parade Colonel Roosevelt probably will go to the home of his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, for a family luncheon, and later in the day will go to his home in Oyster Bay.

FAST NEARING THE SHORE.

Roosevelt Asks Public to Refrain from Unimportant Messages.

SABLE ISLAND, Nova Scotia, June 16.—At 6:05 a. m. today the wireless station here was in communication with the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria. The steamer was then 310 miles southeast of Sable Island and 805 miles east of Sandy Hook. She should be off Ambrose Channel lightship about 5 o'clock Saturday morning—some three hours earlier than was indicated in the message from the steamer yesterday. The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, which has among her passengers Theodore Roosevelt and others of his family, will probably dock in New York about 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Roosevelt appeals to the public to refrain from sending him any but important messages. The three wireless operators on board are engaged constantly in handling Roosevelt messages, and it is feared that the crush will be increased as the steamer approaches New York. The replies

KNOCKOUT BLOW DEALT TO FIGHTS.

Gillett's Message to Webb Puts Ban on Contests.

Struggle to Defeat the Attempt Will Be Vigorous.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Governor Gillett's message to Attorney General Webb invoking the arm of the law to put a quietus on the Jeffries-Johnson and the Langford-Kaufman contests is generally regarded as a knockout blow to the first game in California. The issue, however, is a matter for the courts to determine finally, and, unless Promoters Rickard and Gleason conclude voluntarily to abandon their plan of holding the "battle of the century" in this city, it may be several days, or longer, before a definite solution of the chaotic question regarding the scene of the championship contest is reached. Reno and Ely, Nevada, and Salt Lake City are the alternative localities now under consideration.

Bombarded with protests from all parts of California and the country, Governor Gillett last night put his emphatic ban on the Jeffries-Johnson fight, which was to have taken place in San Francisco July 4. Undeterred by the measures which the governor has taken to stop the match, the backers of the enterprise announced their intention to proceed with the preparations for the event. It is expected that the struggle over the question of fight or no-fight will be one of the thrilling incidents in the history of California.

Governor Gillett's action took the form of a telegram to Attorney General U. S. Webb, in which the executive expressed his disapproval of prize fighting in unmeasured terms and directed that the aid of the courts be invoked to prevent the match. He concluded with a positive order, that in case the plea for a restraining order be not granted, and the fight be held, the attorney general proceed to gather evidence and prosecute the principals and those interested in the fight; for violation of the penal code of the state. The letter declares that the supreme court of California has not defined a prize fight and suggests that an opportunity be given it to do so.

While the status of the fight is in an unsettled condition the sporting fraternity is much cast down, and it is generally believed that the knell of prize-fighting in California, "the Mecca of prize fighters," according to the governor's letter, has been sounded. This belief is borne out by the fact that the governor telegraphed to Attorney General Webb later in the day to take similar action as to the fight scheduled for June 18 in San Francisco between Sam Langford and Al Kaufman.

Tex Rickard and John Gleason, the promoters of the fight, said they had heard no whisper of the governor's intended action. When the news reached Mr. Rickard rushed to the office of Attorney General Webb and asked what that officer purposed to do. After a talk with Webb, Rickard said he believed the fight would be held in San Francisco on the advertised date, despite the governor's orders. Rickard would not say what his course of action would be until Webb handed down an opinion, but he has no intention of abandoning the effort to hold the fight here.

Rickard said Webb promised him, because of the great expense of erecting the arena and other matters connected with the fight, that his opinion would be forthcoming without delay. Rickard expects it within two days.

A vigorous struggle to defeat the governor's attempt to stop the big fight is in prospect. Mayor McCarthy will come to the rescue of the promoters, he announced in a statement issued from Chicago last night, and the latest announcement from Promoter Gleason is that the attorneys representing him and Rickard have advised them to go ahead with their arrangements for holding the contest in San Francisco. "We will act on the advice of our lawyers," Gleason said early today. "We have not violated the law in any way, nor do we intend to."

Attorney General Webb, in a statement issued last night, pledged himself to stop the contest. He said: "I am going to carry out the governor's instructions. I am going to stop the fight." In an interview given out early in the evening Mr. Webb indicated the construction he would place on the Jeffries-Johnson battle. "The fact of the matter is," declared the attorney general, "that if this contest is one in which the contestants enter the ring with the avowed intention of knocking each other out, to use a fighting term, it is a prize fight and against the law, if they do not contemplate knocking each other out, I apprehend it is a faze and ought to be stopped."

Just what will be the nature of the legal proceedings to be instituted by the attorney general is not known. The governor's letter is positive in directing that the courts be asked to intervene and urging a definition of prize fighting by the supreme court. For this reason it is believed that Mr. Webb will apply for a writ of mandamus before the state's highest tribunal, thus bringing all parties before that body for a hearing and procuring a temporary injunction, pending a decision. By this step he would avoid delay, since the promoters would have to appeal if judgment were rendered against them.

Seeking a reason for the action of Governor Gillett, following the repeated declarations that he did not believe the fight could be prevented, and that he did not purpose to begin useless opposition, many think that pressure was brought to bear on him from Washington; that the state's representatives at the national capital informed him that the fight was standing in the way of San Francisco's effort to procure the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Louis Blot, who is promoting the Kaufman-Langford contest, declares that he will carry out his plans for the event despite the governor's order. He says his lawyers have assured him that he is acting in conformity with the laws in staging the fight.

By switching the Jeffries-Johnson fight from San Francisco to some other point the promoters assert they stand to lose a large sum. It is estimated that the gate receipts, if the fight is held here, will be in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. That sum will be very materially reduced if it becomes necessary to change the scene.

FIFTY THOUSAND AFFECTED NOW.

Number May Be Doubled in July and August.

Cotton, Woolen and Thread Industries Curtailing.

BOSTON, June 16.—Fully 50,000 operatives in the New England states are already affected by a short-time policy for the summer months which has been decided upon by numerous manufacturers of textiles, and it is expected that the number will be doubled during July and August.

There is now more cotton machinery idle in the United States than at any time since the policy of curtailment was inaugurated among mills last fall. Mill men believe that by October 1 a considerable degree of renewed activity may be expected. With the extent of the new crop known, and the basis of cotton prices fairly well assured, it is believed the demand for goods will be sufficient to cause a return to almost normal conditions of operation.

The woolen industry is, if anything, more depressed than the cotton goods trade. The American Woolen Company, which operates 30 mills in New England and employs 30,000 operatives when business is good, has 40 per cent of its machinery idle. Other woolen concerns have 50 per cent idle.

In the thread industry a curtailment has been ordered. The American Thread Company has ordered all its mills in Holyoke, Willimantic and elsewhere closed tonight until next Monday. The Holyoke mills will run four days weekly until August, except from June 30 to July 11, when they will be closed. The Lyman cotton mills at Holyoke and Dwight and Chicopee cotton plants at Chicopee are also on short time.

The Clinton cotton mills, Woonsocket, R. I., and other mills controlled by the Knight interests in Westerly, Natick, River Point, Arctic, Clyde, Jackson, Fisherville, Providence and other Rhode Island points will close tonight until Monday, the beginning of a four-days-a-week schedule. Other mills similarly affected are those in Readville, Dodgeville and Manchaug, Mass.

M. C. D. Borden's 5,000 operatives in Fall River are idle this week, but will be employed alternate weeks. Cotton mills in Lawrence and other cities will be closed for a time in July.

WIRELESS STOCK SWINDLE.

Millions Made In Alleged Fraud and Three Men Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 15.—An alleged swindle, by which one man alone is said to have made $10,000,000 out of a gullible public, was uncovered by a raid on the luxuriously appointed offices of the United Wireless Telegraph Company on Broadway, and the arrest of three men directly or indirectly connected with the concern. The men arrested are Christopher Wilson, president of the company; Samuel S. Bogart, first vice president, and William W. Tompkins, president of the New York Selling Agency, which officers of the wireless company say was formerly their fiscal agent, but has ceased to represent them.

Chief Inspector Mayer subsequently gave out a statement in which he charged that, although the company has been running at a loss, the price of its shares has been advanced by manipulation to fictitious values, and that the officers of the company have sold out their stock to the general public at a profit estimated in one instance at between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, with other instances in proportion.

Wilson was released in $25,000 bail and Bogart in $10,000 bail for appearance July 11, when a further hearing will be held before a federal commissioner. Tompkins could not find the $10,000 bail required and spent the night in the Tombs.

"There are 28,000 shareholders of the company through the country," said Inspector Mayer in his statement. "The real assets of the company, consisting of land stations, patents, manufacturing plants and real estate of all kinds, appear to be worth at a conservative estimate $400,000, or an actual worth of two cents a share at par value. Two million shares have been issued at a par value of $10 a share, but the stock has recently been put up to $50 a share. The stock is really worth $.004 a share."

VATICAN WITHDRAWS LETTER.

Responds to Protest Sent by the Prussian Government.

BERLIN, June 15.—The Vatican has replied to the protest of the Prussian government against the encyclical issued by the Pope on the occasion of the tercentennial of the canonization of St. Charles Borromeo. The reply disavows any intention of offending German Protestants, and says that the encyclical is withdrawn, so far as Germany is concerned.

The Pope's encyclical letter was published at the end of May. It reviews in detail the work of St. Charles Borromeo, of whose canonization the third centenary occurs next Nov. 1, and speaks of him as the great champion of Catholic reform as opposed to the Protestant and "heretical" reform of Luther.

The encyclical caused an immense sensation in Germany. Last Sunday mass meetings protesting against it were held in this and various other German cities, hundreds of thousands of persons attending the meetings in Berlin alone. The Imperial foreign office was quick to realize the deep-rooted indignation displayed, and it is many years since it criticized the act of a foreign authority so freely as in this case.

THE POLO DATES.

Secretary Hazard Suggests Change to August 27 and 31 and September 5.

Dates for the international polo matches have not yet been agreed upon by representatives of the American and British associations. That the contests will take place late in August is assured according to a special cable sent by W. A. Hazard, secretary of the American Polo Association, to Major Green, manager of the Hurlingham Club, Fulham, England, as follows:

"Since the finals of the National Lawn Tennis championship will be held probably on the twenty-fourth, suggest first polo game on August 27, second game on thirty-first and if third game is necessary September 5, which is holiday here."

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The continued wet weather is likely to prove injurious to the strawberry crop.

St. Columba's Guild and the Guild of Holy Cross Church hold their weekly meetings Wednesday at their respective guild houses.

The five schools of the town will close Friday for their annual vacation. In place of a picnic a portion of the afternoon will be devoted to games in the school yards. Miss Mildred Young of the Paradise school has resigned, having secured a position in one of the grammar grades of her home city, Central Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ridley of New Bedford are spending the week among relatives in town.

The Olephant Club picnic, to be held with Miss Etta M. Sherman will include a small program, to be presented by the president and Mrs. Phoebe E. T. Manchester. The refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Edward Almy and Mrs. Kate Bailey.

Relatives from Middletown and Newport attended the wedding in Providence today of Mr. George C. Barker, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin C. Barker of Providence, to Miss Elizabeth A. Freer, also of Providence. Mr. Barker is a native of Middletown where he resided many years.

The strawberry supper given Tuesday evening at the Holy Cross Guild House by the members of St. Mary's Church was for the benefit of the choir fund of St. Mary's and Holy Cross. The affair was the third in a series for this purpose and will be followed by a chowder dinner and lawn party, at "Lone Elm Place," Brayman's, June next week.

A 550-SHOT MATCH.

The Providence Revolver Club had a 500-shot match during the spring months, for a prize offered by Mr. H. Powel of Newport. The conditions calledd for 500 shots per man, five shots to a target, any rifle from 22 to 32 calibre, choice of indoor shooting under artificial light or outdoor under natural conditions, any sight allowable (excepting telescope) to be shot offhand and scores completed by June 1, 1910. Under these conditions the scores naturally varied considerably, but all handed in were good considering the gun used. The low man, with a four and a half pound English miniature with military sights, finished with an average of 45½ for each string of 10 shots.

The best score was put up by William Almy who finished with a total of 2306 and therefore wins the match. Mr. Almy used a 32 calibre Ballard Stevens with globe and peep sights, and shot a remarkably consistent score averaging slightly over 46 for his strings. A. Powel was next high, using the same make of gun and under the same conditions, his score being 2,268. A. Allore, using a regulation 30 calibre Krag and the regular military sights, finished next and considering the conditions and gun used put up as fine a score as any in the match, 2246. P. Brooks, a new member of the club, entered the match during the last two weeks and therefore was obliged to hustle some to finish in time, which he did by shooting every evening and under all conditions, ending strong with 2215. H. Miller of Providence was high from that section of the club, with 2202, using a 30 calibre Springfield. E. C. Parkhurst, also using a 30 Springfield finished with 2195. Diesel made 2175, A. C. Contress and Pellow did not finish, but were running low at the time. The scores were as follows: William Almy, Portsmouth, 32 Ballard-Stevens 2306. H. Powel, Newport, 32 Ballard-Stevens 2268. A. A. Allore, Middletown, 30 Krag 2246. P. Brooks Newport, 22 Winchester 2215. H. Miller, Providence, 30 Springfield, 2202. E. C. Parkhurst, Providence, 30 Springfield, 2195. T. J. Wearing an "oxygen helmet," a man can enter a burning building without breathing the smoke and gases of combustion generated there. Equipped in this manner, he can aim a stream of water or engage in rescue work for half an hour at a time, defying conditions which otherwise would overcome him or force an immediate retreat.

Busy Reducing Your Fat?

Are fat folks enthusiastic about performing athletic stunts when garbed in heavy woolen underclothing? No—not enthusiastic. Do they subscribe readily to a diet of half a glass of buttermilk and a toasted cracker? No—not readily. Are they happy, then, while reducing by such methods, during this hot weather? No—they are not exactly happy.

Some fat reducers are happy though during the process, but these neither exercise nor diet. They lose fat—as much as a pound a day, in many instances—but they do it without missing a single, righteous meal or lifting an unnecessary finger. These emancipated ones reduce either in hot weather or cold, without bother or harm to themselves, by taking quietly and secretly, and even cunningly, one Ritz Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime.

That's all. They get their tablets (made after the formula of the famous prescription) in large, generously filled cases at a cost of seventy-five cents the case from any drug store or from the makers, the Marmola Co., 711 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., take one as per directions, and get as thin as they want to be—just that way, without causing a wrinkle or the least internal injury.

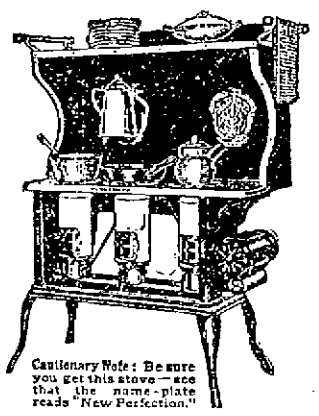
Think of Last Summer—

You can remember days when the heat inside your kitchen was so great you could hardly bear it. With the right stove you would have made a better hostess. Save your health. Don't put up with the drudgery of a coal range. You can have a clean, cool, pleasant kitchen. The

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove



Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-Stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wick. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimneys to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Providence Pastor Declines Presidency of Franklin College.

Death of Postmaster Cass of Woonsocket—Mayor Sullivan of Cranston Threatened.

Dr. Elijah A. Hanley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Providence, Wednesday night was offered and declined the presidency of Franklin College at Richmond, Ind. His declination followed his election at a meeting of the board of the college held during the day. Dr. Hanley is a graduate of Franklin College and for some time has been acting as an advisor of the institution. The question of his becoming president has been mentioned before, but on the previous occasions Dr. Hanley has done his best to discourage the directing officials at his alma mater from considering him as a prospective head of the institution. In speaking of the matter Dr. Hanley intimated that the size of the college and his satisfaction with his present calling as pastor of a church which, as he expressed it, "has large ideas," were factors in inducing him not to accept the election at the present time. Dr. Hanley Wednesday evening received notice from the college, stating that he had been elected president. He sent a telegram in reply, in which he stated that he was obliged to decline the election on account of the broader field for his endeavors which he has found with the First Baptist Society.

John W. Cass, postmaster at Woonsocket since 1897, died Wednesday afternoon at the Butler Hospital in Providence. He had been under treatment at the institution since March 17, suffering from mental and physical diseases, and for a fortnight hope of recovery had been given up. Mr. Cass was born in Woonsocket October 6, 1840 and until he became postmaster in 1897 was prominent in Woonsocket politics. President Harrison appointed him examiner of foreign merchandise in the port of Providence and he retained this position until President Cleveland assumed office. He then tendered his resignation to engage in the manufacturing business in Woonsocket. For some time after that he was manager of a granite pressed brick company at Slatersville. He was a life-long Republican, represented the fifth ward in the Woonsocket common council for four years, beginning in 1889, the latter two as council president; he then became a member of the board of aldermen and served in that body for two years, in 1894 and 1895. August 27, 1897, he was first appointed postmaster by President McKinley; was re-appointed, and on March 29, 1906, was re-appointed by President Roosevelt. February 21 of this year he was re-appointed by President Taft, and the appointment was confirmed by the Senate. Had he lived until August he would have served out 13 years as Woonsocket's postmaster. Mr. Cass was a member of the executive committee of the National Association of Second and Third Class Postmasters and also a member of the national committee of first class Postmasters. December 20, 1905, he was chosen president of the New England Postmasters' Association, a place which he held for one year. He also served as president of the Woonsocket Agricultural Society, holding that position from 1895 to 1898; president of the Woonsocket Business Men's Association, president of the Men's Club of the Woonsocket Universalist parish, vice president of the Rhode Island Golf Association and president of the Woonsocket Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

Mayor Sullivan of Cranston has received a letter from an unknown writer, which says that if he does not notify Chief of Police Trainor to his position within two weeks, he will give a bullet in his skull. The missive is badly mis-spelled, without punctuation and written in a rambling scrawl. Scattered words here and there throughout the sheet have the appearance of having been written in pencil and then traced with ink. The sheet is a cheap quality of heavy note paper. The threat, is "Signed by the Five Devils of Cranston." The envelope is postmarked at Providence and is addressed to Mr. Sullivan at his office on Westminster street.

Frank Simmons, a conductor on the Interstate street railroad, was fatally hurt on Broadway, Pawtucket, early Wednesday evening, when an electric car bound for North Attleboro crashed into the side of the one over which he had charge, crashing him between the two. He was mangled and died at the Twin City Hospital two hours later. Both cars which figured in the accident were heavily laden with passengers, the majority of whom were women and children. None of these, however, were badly hurt, although both cars were considerably damaged by the force with which they come together. Failure of the motormen of the two cars, to gauge whether they had a clear track is the apparent cause of the smash-up of which Simmons bore all the brunt. He was on the running board collecting fares, and his legs and part of his body received the whole force of the collision.

The Federation of Churches and Christian Workers of the state of Rhode Island is starting a campaign for the acquisition of funds for a more rapid development of its work and to increase its efficiency toward achieving Christian unity. To further the work a finance committee has been organized to secure funds for the work. In circulars sent out by the committee it is stated that the members are convinced that the attempt of the churches to come together in practical co-operation is a first step toward Christian unity and the thing to do is to strengthen every good way. The committee's circular states the appeal for funds: "The results already achieved by the federation are remarkable, in view of its inadequate income hitherto. We believe that a more generous support, $4,000 a year, will now make possible rapid development. It would seem possible not merely to permeate Providence 'the co-operative church plan,' in which it has led New England and which is now, after years and elsewhere, pronounced the ideal plan 'the only scientific method of church work,' but also to develop a similar method to our rural life and to double the efficiency of the federation as a bureau of information and through its various committees. We commend this cause to Christian consideration." Church bulletins enclosed tell of efforts of the committee on public health, toward social hygiene and moral training of the young, and how a church federation may be demonstrated by what it has done.

At a meeting of the Rhode Island Horticultural Society Wednesday evening it was voted to ask the Rhode Island Historical Society to place a tablet on the spot of the original Rhode Island Greening apple tree at Foster. This tree or its remains, for only the stump is now left, stands on the estate of Thomas R. Brown, and is said to be at least 180 years old. Owing to the prominence which this particular brand of apple has attained, not only in this state but also in other Middle Atlantic states, it was deemed advisable by the society to commemorate the spot on which it grew. There was some doubt in the minds of some of the society's members as to whether this was the original tree or not, one member saying he had heard that the genuine Greening apple tree grew in Middletown, and that the tree was so named for a man named Green. After this doubt had been expressed a letter was read giving a history of the Foster tree, which proved conclusively to the minds of those present that it was the original tree and none other should be reckoned with. Since the Rhode Island Historical Society receives an appropriation from the state for the proper marking of historical sites the Horticultural Society decided to call its attention to the Foster tree.

Funeral services for Charles P. Moles, the first mayor of Central Falls, a past department commander of the Grand Army, and prominent in business circles in Pawtucket, were held at his home in Central Falls Wednesday. In keeping with the expressed wishes of Mr. Moles, everything in connection with the arrangements was of simple nature and although many of the representative business men from every section of the state and members of the fraternal societies to which he belonged were present, no organizations were officially represented. The services were conducted by Rev. Marion Law, rector of St. Paul's Church, Pawtucket, and were confined to the simple ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. There were no honorary bearers.

St. Francis Church, Hillsgrove, of which Rev. P. L'Esperance, M. S. C., of Natick, is pastor, has acquired a tract of land containing 45,000 square feet, adjoining its present property, for the purpose of enlarging the church and beautifying the surroundings. The deeds have been passed conveying the land from the Thomas F. Hill estate to the trustees. The church was built in 1900 and the congregation has steadily increased until the services are so largely attended that Bishop Harkins has ordered an additional service.

Colonel Samuel Pomeroy Colt has sent out invitations for a levee and reception Monday, July 4 from 12 to 3 o'clock in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the erection of the DeWolf homestead, Bristol. It is the idea to inaugurate the opening of its second century with such hospitality as that for which the old place has always been noted, and it will add a brilliant social event to the list of attractions with which Bristol will celebrate the nation's birthday.

Senator Aldrich is needed in Washington to help the progress of the conference report on the railroad bill through the Senate, but is not in Washington and nobody there was able Wednesday to say definitely whether he will return during the present session.

It was later learned that the Senator is in New York, where it is said his son Richard is ill with typhoid fever at the Presbyterian Hospital.

PERSONALS.

.....Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York received the honorary degree of doctor of letters from St. John's College at the Commencement exercises of that institution.

.....Robert Bacon, American ambassador to France, accompanied by Mrs. Bacon and their daughter, sailed from Southampton on steamer Adriatic yesterday for New York, to be present at the wedding of the ambassador's son.

.....Albert Verse, a writer, who was one of the four or five passengers taken on the Kite when that vessel set out on an expedition for Commander Robert E. Peary's relief in 1892, and brought him back to St. John's, Newfoundland, died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage in St. Vincent's Hospital, Staten Island, yesterday. Mr. Verse, who lived in Manhattan, went to Staten Island on a visit and was taken ill and removed to the hospital. Mr. Verse was 34 years of age. His wife, Mary Heaton Verse, is a well known writer of short stories.

.....The oldest members of the House of Representatives stared in astonishment when Representative Keifer of Ohio, a former Speaker, came into the legislative chamber recently. Never before had they seen him there except in a dress suit, but on that day he wore an ordinary sack coat. Following the customs of the days of Webster, Clay and Calhoun, General Keifer has always worn a "swallow tail" suit on the floor of the House. His attire has made him conspicuous for many years, and strangers in the galleries always asked as to his identity.

MORE RAILROAD STATISTICS.

The railroads are putting out a lot of literature designed to convince the community that they are having a hard time and need the money which would come from increased charges. Their comparisons are not recent enough, however, and where their figures are recent they supply no comparisons.

For example, in a statement they have just issued they say that the recent increases in wages will take 4 per cent of the gross earnings, and then they do not tell us how their gross earnings are running. The financial papers, though, keep us informed. For months past the gross earnings of the railroads have been running from 15 to 17 per cent above last year. The increase of wages is the principal additional expenses the companies are complaining about, and the increase in gross earnings is four times that, and in addition the railroads are trying to have their freight rates advanced from 15 to 25 per cent. In this case the remedy seems to be altogether out of proportion to the disease.

This same statement tells us that in 1898 the operating expenses were 68.16 per cent of the gross earnings, and in 1908 they had risen to 79.17 per cent. Well, that is due to the fact that 1908 was a poor year, and it was not practicable to reduce the expenses as much as the earnings fell off; but 1909 was a much better year and the operating expenses were less than two-thirds of the earnings. That is doing better than in 1898, but the railroads do not bring their statement down to date. The operating expenses were a smaller percentage of the earnings in March than in January. The gross earnings in March were $27,000,000 more than in January, and the net earnings were $20,000,000 greater. Business is improving; gross earnings are increasing; the costs of operation are not increasing as fast as the earnings, according to the latest information available, which is a good deal later than that which the railroads supply in their efforts to convince the country that they ought to be allowed to charge more. With increased business their operating expenses drop to a proper proportion of their earnings.

THE EFFECTS OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Sometimes in arguments in favor of woman suffrage the statement is made that the presence of women at the polls would result in better political conditions, on the ground that they would feel more responsibility for the performance of the duties of citizenship embodied in the voting privilege and be less susceptible to deception at the hands of the politicians. The experience in New Zealand and Australia does not support this theory. In a recent magazine article a close observer of the workings of woman suffrage in those countries declares as the result of his investigations along that line that the 16 years during which women have had the right to vote in New Zealand have brought no noticeable change in the current of political thought or in the economic or mental dependence of women upon men. In Australia, where the women have voted but a short time, there have been no more appreciable results in the way of improvement of political conditions or the effect of the franchise upon the status of woman.

This writer asserts that his observations led him to believe that in both these countries "women take the responsibilities of citizenship just as men do, show no more interest and no less in political questions than they, and cast the privileged ballot with all the male elector's lack of forethought and occasional stupid conviction." From this testimony it would appear that the ballot for women does not, as some argue would be the case, change the political situation in any material respect or do anything to reform political conditions. It would seem, indeed, in the light of what is thus reported, that the women follow the lead of the men in casting their ballots, just as opponents of woman suffrage have often asserted would be the case if the ballot were given to women in this country. At all events, the advocates of the extension of the franchise in this land can gain but cold comfort from the statements of this writer as to what he found to be the conditions where women have the right to vote.

The best argument which can be advanced in favor of woman suffrage is that there is no good reason why women should not vote as well as men, especially those who are owners of property; that the exclusion of one half the population from that privilege is not right, and that inasmuch as women as well as men are interested and ought to be interested in those things which affect the welfare of the city, state or nation, they should have the power to express their convictions as to the government and the way affairs should be administered. If the suffragists would cling to that argument they would stand a better chance of winning than if they go farther and lay stress upon the conditions in other countries where the voting privilege is exercised by women, and where the conditions which actually exist are not in accordance with the arguments advanced in support of the voting franchise for women. The sentiment that it is a right may be open to dispute, and so offers a better hold for the appeals for the franchise which may be made by women and their supporters in the battle for the ballot.

It may be significant in this connection that the ballot was given to women in Australia not as the result of special efforts by the women to obtain the right, but by the men themselves as one item in the system of progressive legislation adopted in that country. About every sort of new idea in the line of liberal legislation has been accepted there, and so it is not surprising that the woman suffrage plan should have been included. The significant feature is that it was not secured by a campaign by the women, but was granted by the men. Perhaps if there were less agitation by the women themselves in this country for the right of suffrage they would more quickly secure what they demand than by the present method of crusading for it. There may be such a thing as tiring out by importunities those who make the laws, but there is also a possibility of privileges being granted without the pursuance of that course.

NOT NOISE, BUT MUSIC.

New York has an anti-noise society which is trying to suppress steam whistles and the yells of itinerant venders. It is not bold enough to undertake to soften the terrible racket of the trolley cars, which make more noise in proportion to their size than any other invention of this age of iron and racket. The society may have succeeded in suppressing a few instruments of nerve torture, but it is not yet still enough in New York to hear a pin drop, not even a coupling pin, if such a thing survives.

Boston has undertaken to deal with noise in a different and a more cultivated way. It is highly characteristic of the refinement of Boston that instead of trying to combat noise, it should undertake the more subtle task of transforming noise into music. Some time ago all the hand organ men were required to have their hurdy-gurdies tuned, and the next step should be to have all of them set to play classical music.

Reform in another line has now been undertaken by a gifted young woman, who has shared with the rest of the community the discomfort of street cries, and who, by an inspiration of genius, has conceived the idea of substituting sweet melodies for pain. She has remoded up several of the peddlers, won their good will by assuring them that they will sell more of their wares if they will chant their stocks in trade in pleasing cadences, and given them a few elementary lessons in the management of their voices and most seductive airs to which they can set their appeals for patronage.

This reform opens up beautiful and stirring possibilities. In the Boston of the near future it will be a joy to have, not only the hand organ, but the fruit peddler, the purveyor of fish and the collector of rags and old bottles pass through one's street. Old iron will inspire snatches of Italian opera, old clothes will revive the plaintive music of the harps which were once hung upon the willows by other waters than those of the Charles river, and all the streets will be filled with a continuous performance of song.

The introduction of a bill in Congress for the retirement of Justice Moody from the Supreme Court bench is due to Mr. Moody's health, which shows little indication of improvement, and is based on the conditions that he retire within six months, that the vacancy may be filled and the new justice take his seat when the court resumes sessions in October. Justice Moody's determination to leave the bench was reached as a result of some comment made recently that certain of the big corporation cases assigned for re-argument would have been decided by the Supreme Court had not the court been so evenly divided. Justice Moody saw references to the fact that the result would have been different if he had not been incapacitated.

Rabbi Charles [illegible] of the Temple Adath Israel, Boston, announces that he will [illegible] as rabbi of the Temple after August, 1911, when his present term of service expires. He is one of the most prominent men in the Hebrew church, being known as an advanced Jew, in theology, and has recently created quite a stir in religious circles by speaking from several Christian pulpits in Boston. Mr. Fleischer gives as his reason for resigning that he feels that he is like a general too far ahead of his army, he cannot wait for his people to catch up with him and therefore will be more comfortable acting elsewhere.

The closing day of the Massachusetts legislature was devoted largely to the final consideration of bills in which the New Haven railroad company is interested. By the measures finally passed the company is benefited, incidentally, by the permission granted the Boston Holding Company, through which it controls the Boston & Maine Railroad, to issue preferred stock. The New Haven road is given authority to purchase the Berkshire Street Railway, which it already controls through a holding company.

Governor Gillett of California has stopped the big prize fight in that state, apparently not because he does not favor the fight but because he is afraid the state would lose the Panama Exposition if the contest were allowed. Mayor McCarthy of San Francisco is not willing to abide by the action of the governor and says the fight will take place in San Francisco in spite of everything. He declares that he runs the city, and that the city desires the fight and will have it.

The News today, in preparing the obituary of the late John Austin Stevens, was unusually fortunate in having access to an autobiographical sketch in the handwriting of the deceased, which treated of the earlier and more active part of his life. The paper on which it is written is yellowed with age, for it is a manuscript prepared nearly 30 years ago.

THE CLANS OF SCOTLAND.

Hundreds of years ago, when the Romans invaded England, many of the Britons who until then had held the country fled to the mountains to the north, a land then almost unknown. These people were not cowardly in leaving their homes, for they were a race of hardy, proud and warlike people. In their new settlements they enjoyed greater freedom, for they were not there compelled to adopt the language and manners of the well armed Roman soldiers. These true Britons have all passed away so long ago that only their traditions are left. The Celts or Highlanders now living in the Highlands of Scotland are their descendants.

These people today speak in a dialect utterly unlike that spoken in the lowlands. Their dress, too, is quite different, as you all know who have seen the pictures of men in kilts and shawls and turbanlike hats which they call bonnets. In olden times the Highlanders were divided into tribes or clans. Nowadays these Scotch people are proud to keep up the old clan names, but the system of clanship has forever disappeared. All of the members of each clan believed themselves to be descended from one great ancestor. They generally took his name, adding to it the prefix "Mac" meaning son. Thus the MacDonalds were the sons of Donald.

Each clan had a chief, supposed to be the most direct descendant of the founder of the family. So loyal were the men of each clan to their chief that his will was implicitly obeyed, even if carrying out his commands meant rebellion against the king. Occupying distinct mountain districts, these clans were like petty nations and were often at war with each other and with the common enemy, the lowlanders. So great was their enjoyment of warfare that they seemed never so happy as when in battle. They were brave, enduring, liberty-loving, hospitable and unrivaled in their loyal devotion to their chief and clansmen. One of the most remarkable of the highland clans is the clan MacGregor, descendants of Gregor, son of Kenneth, MacAlpine, King of the Scots and Picts. This, of course, makes the clan a very old one. Their boast is that the hills, waters and MacAlpines are the oldest things in Albion.

A GREAT INDUSTRIAL AGE.

[Professor L. H. Bailey in the National Magazine.]

How does the Panama Canal impress me? It impresses me that this is not the digging of a ditch, or the building of railroad trackage 40 times across the Isthmus. It is the implanting of a civilization. Its parts are great flights in engineering and sanitation; bold experiments in government, organization, education, and in social cohesion. It is a conquest, to which are contributed all the elements of a good human society.

The building of the Panama Canal and the conquest of the Zone are concrete results of great feats in imagination. We are told that the great poets are gone and that the best expression of the poetic impulse is passing away. Yet I am convinced that of all epochs this is essentially the most poetic; but we do not recognize the poetry of it. Here in this great enterprise are imagination, prophecy, and better than all, fulfillment. It may not set itself directly to the music of words, although this will come. But even before it comes, the action, the rhythm of work, the stupendous leap of the imagination, the grasp of the future, the bonding of the peoples of the earth, are the elements of a greater poem than yet has been written.

I like to think of this enterprise, and of all other enterprises that realize great prophecies, as constructive poetry. The mere putting of it into words is a secondary and really a minor matter. Poetry may take other forms than that of words. It is not essential that all poetry be written; it may be builded. All good work well done is essentially poetic to the sensitive mind; and when the work is the rhythm of strong souls striking in unison, the poem is majestic.

The striking of the rivet,
The purr of a drill,
The crash of a steam shovel,
The plunge of a dredge,
The breaking of a furrow,
The scooping of a channel,
The roll of the mill,
The silence intent of men at work,
The talk of men going to their homes—

These are all the notes of a great symphony.

Nothing is finer than to see the addition of line upon line that makes a living poem.

Here on the Isthmus has been a parallel. Here we are seeing the miracle of a paradise regained. It is revealing not by angels and superman, not by dark forces that we invoke from the unseen, but by men and women in the flesh who have the light of the future in their eyes.

Here, at the Isthmus, is to be the crossing of the currents, economic, climatological, political, military. Here is to be a proving ground of the brotherhood of man.

DEMOCRACY IN COLLEGES.

President Hadley Describes Certain Social Conditions Among Students at Yale.

[Arthur T. Hadley in Century.]

When a Freshman comes to either of the undergraduate departments of Yale, he is invited on the second night of the term to a class meeting, which is addressed by leading Seniors—men who have been successful in the different lines of effort which the undergraduate values, intellectual or administrative, athletic or social. These men tell the boys of the various competitions that are open before them in the world which they have entered. The editors of the "News" and of the "Literary Magazine" have their call for men who can write; the football captain and the track captain, for men who can play; the glee club manager, for men who can sing, and so on through an almost indefinite variety of lines. But the burden of the addresses is essentially the same:

"You have come to a community that wants men to take an interest in its interests; which is ready to honor the competent and give the leadership to men who have proved their fitness for the leadership. We try to make the competition as fair as we can. To him who succeeds we give place and power; to him who tries and fails, we give respect and the encouragement to try again; to him who sulks in his tent, we give nothing. Recognition will be awarded not only to the successful men in your own line, but by the hard workers in every other line. But this is no place for the trifler who lacks the nerve to undertake anything, or for the weakling who tries to excuse his own weakness by accusations of unfairness against those who have worked harder, or for the self-seeker who attempts to gain pleasure for himself instead of showing what he can do for others."

This spirit is not peculiar to Yale. It represents the ideals and standards of our American Colleges in general. It is essentially republican. It lays stress on work for the commonwealth and on the interests of the commonwealth. Whether a man regards it as democratic or not will depend upon his definition of democracy.

To the communist ideal of democracy—the idea that everybody should have an equal share in the offices and emoluments of society—it is absolutely antagonistic. It strives to guarantee, and in large measure succeeds in guaranteeing, equality of opportunity; equality of endowment and equality of result it neither guarantees nor gives. Its ethics are essentially those of the parable of the ten talents. On the man who has made the most of what there is in him, it confers the most authority. With the man who has hidden his talent in a napkin, it will have nothing to do. Now, this is, unfortunately, contrary to the ethics of a great many people who regard themselves as representatives of modern democracy.

IMPORTATION OF MANUFACTURERS' MATERIALS.

Importation of manufacturers' materials in the year which ends with this month will exceed that of any preceding year in the history of our commerce. Figures of the Bureau of Statistics covering the 10 months' imports show in nearly every important article of manufacturers' use large increases in the quantities brought into the country. In hides and skins, in India rubber, in wool, in silk, in cotton, in fibres, in lumber, in iron ore, in copper ore, in wood pulp and pulp wood, in tobacco, and in chemicals used in manufacturing, the quantity imported in the 10 months of the current fiscal year for which the figures are at hand is so far in excess of that for the corresponding months of earlier years that it is safe to assert that the quantity as well as the value of manufacturers' materials imported in the current fiscal year will exceed by far that of any earlier year. Comparing 1910 with 1907, the former "banner year," it is found that practically all of the important articles for use in manufacturing show larger quantities in the 10 months of the current fiscal year for which figures are now available than in the corresponding months of the fiscal year 1907, which justifies the assertion that 1910 will become the "banner year" in the importation of manufacturers' materials, and presumably in the production of domestic manufactures.

TIPPING FOR THE TRAVELER ABROAD.

[Esther Brooks, in Woman's Home Companion.]

It is customary to give tips pretty generally throughout Europe, and the tipping begins on the ship. It is the usual thing to give these only at the time of the last meal taken on board. The amount distributed is in proportion to, say, 10 per cent of your ticket. You give to your table waiter, to the stewardess and to perhaps the deck steward. Don't worry if you have been waited upon by several at table. Choose the one who has served you best and most often, and give to him, say, two or three dollars on a minimum ticket. They have a way of dividing up their board among themselves.

To the porters who carry your baggage to and from the trains, both on landing and throughout your journey, you will be perfectly willing to give the few cents expected. Do not make the mistake of trying to avoid this by carrying your bag yourself, for these porters are most useful to you in giving information and in steering you in the right direction, but they are quite as capable of mis-informing you if they see you trying to avoid them. Also, there are graver things which may happen, a lost package or a mutilated piece of baggage. From four to six cents is all that is customary. Be sure you keep on hand a never-ending supply of copper pieces for these little tips, otherwise you will find yourself considerably out of pocket at the end of the day.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, June 16, 8 A. M.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Showers tonight and probably Friday; light to moderate easterly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A slight barometer depression has developed during the night over Virginia and Maryland. This disturbance has been accompanied by showers during the past 24 hours in Atlantic coast states, as far north as the south New England coast. Elsewhere over the country the weather is generally fair, except on the Pacific coast where there have been a few light scattered showers and much cloudiness. The pressure in the central valleys and lower Lake region remains somewhat above the normal, and in the extreme northeast it has risen to considerable above the normal. An extensive trough of low pressure still lies stagnant over the Rocky mountain region. The temperature distribution over the country this morning shows no decided departures from the normal in eastern and central portions, but in the Rocky mountain region and Pacific coast states the temperatures are generally below the seasonal average. It is considerably cooler in southern New England. The minimum temperature in New England during the night ranged from 48 degrees at Eastport, Maine, to 64 degrees at Hartford, Conn. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 66. Washington 68, Atlanta 62, Jacksonville 70, St. Louis 74, Chicago 76, St. Paul 68, Omaha 70, Kansas City 70, Denver 60, Los Angeles 56, San Francisco 50 and Portland, Oregon, 54.

SESSION NINE MINUTES LONG.

But Three Cases Were Disposed of, Including Donnelly-Miller Discontinuance.

The superior court had a short session this morning, but three cases were disposed of, nevertheless. The court opened at 9:40. Judge Lee presiding, and at 9:49 was adjourned to 9:30 Friday. The jurors were dismissed for the day at 9:43.

The first case called was one of the Starr Miller Mr. Mortimer A. Sullivan of Starr Boys—Ann Donnelly vs William for plaintiff and Mr. Harvey for defendant. It went the way of other well known cases—was discontinued. On a wet and cloudy day this added loss of another old friend from the docket makes one think of the lament, "One by one the cases fall"—or whatever it was the poet wrote. Plaintiff was struck and knocked down by defendant's automobile, near the Old City Hall on Thames street, in July, 1908. Two officers saw the accident and arrested the chauffeur. He was not going very fast at the time, but fast enough to hit the aged woman before she could escape out of the way. She was two weeks in the hospital and incapacitated for further work. Mr. Miller was not in the car at the time, and there is where he wins. Plaintiff sued for $500, and the jury kept on the safe side by giving her a verdict for $99.98.

The case was tried in December, 1908. At the trial the chauffeur was not present. It became an important question where he had been and where he was going when he knocked down the woman. One might suppose that such a question was quite immaterial, so long as he was arrested by officers who saw him commit the deed; but on consideration of that question the verdict was set aside. As defendant was not present at the accident, it needed to be shown that the chauffeur was on business for his master. It was shown that he had the machine to go and have it repaired and bring it home thereafter. This might seem sufficient, but it appeared that he did not go straight home. He was not in court to tell where he went and a good deal of evidence was put in, trying to show it by others. If it could be shown that he was riding "on his own hook" the master might, under the law, escape responsibility. It was contended that he went to procure a chauffeur's license. Plaintiff said that was the master's business; defendant said it was not. He might have walked to obtain it.

The case was allowed to go to the jury, and after the verdict defendant asked for a new trial, alleging among other things that the jury had disregarded the evidence, and been governed by prejudice against automobiles, and against defendant because he was rich. A new trial was granted. As no new evidence could be produced, and the ruling of the court would probably be repeated, it seemed useless to try the case again. By discontinuing without trial, it is said, plaintiff is in a position to sue again if reasons can be found to throw light on the case more favorable to plaintiff.

In Myrtis A. Millikin vs. Henry Sprague, alias (an appealed case), defendant submitted to judgment for $40 and single costs. Mr. McLeod was for plaintiff, and Mr. Nolan for defendant.

Mr. Levy was given a final decree in the divorce petition of Joseph T. McLennan, Jr., vs. Ethel M. McLennan, the ground being wilful desertion.

NEW TRIAL DENIED.

Decision Against P. H. Horgan in the Hotel Thorndike Bank Account Case.

Justice Rathbun of the superior court has denied a motion for a new trial in the case of Frostelene Manufacturing Company of Boston vs. P. H. Horgan. It is an action on book account in connection with the Hotel Thorndike at Jamestown, and was tried here last March, when a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $51.15, the full amount of the claim. Mr. Horgan claimed that the bill was contracted by an unauthorized employe and therefore did not think he should be liable.

MAY LOCATE HERE.

Gold and Silversmith Establishment Desirous of Removing to This City.

An establishment of high-grade gold and silversmiths is desirous of locating its plant in this city. It is not reported that it is seeking aid from local capitalists or special privileges. The reason given for the desired change is principally the desire of some of those connected to reside in Newport. There has been a little looking about the city during the present week, and some business men have been approached to give an opinion upon the advisability of locating here. It is not claimed that the enterprise is a big one, but that it is a small industry using a high grade of work which requires skilled artisans. It is a business which has been growing, though, in the near-by city where it was inaugurated.

THE SPILLED WHISKEY.

What some call sad news, and what others call good news, comes from the tenement of Levin street. Wednesday, in putting a barrel of whiskey into a cellar an expressman dropped the barrel so that it was broken and 50 odd gallons of whiskey went—here opinion differs—some say it went to the bad others that it was the best use to which it could be put. However, the Expressman does not agree with the latter, as he had not delivered the goods and cannot now, for the goods have vanished, leaving only an empty barrel.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Judge P. L. Wicks and family of Baltimore arrived today, at their cottage on Bryer avenue, for the summer.

Midshipman C. H. Davis, Jr., U. S. N., is spending a short vacation with his parents, Admiral and Mrs. Davis, at their cottage on the Dumplings.

Mr. J. M. Whitall and family of Philadelphia are expected today, at their cottage on Bay View Dive.

Mrs. S. N. Severance of New York is guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Severance, on Eldred avenue.

Mrs. D. B. Birney of Philadelphia arrived today at her cottage, on Union street, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey of St. Louis are at their cottage on Shorby Hill for the season.

The daily shipment of strawberries is increasing. Owing to the lack of sunshine the berries do not ripen quickly, but still the crop is large and the fruit of good flavor.

Mr. Jonathan Evans and family of Germantown arrived Wednesday at their Knowles cottage, on Conanicus avenue, for the season.

A LIGHT FISH DAY.

Some of the big mackerel catchers have arrived today and more are expected. Among them was the Schooner Captain Charles Harty, which anchored alongside Long wharf to enable his many friends here to see the new ship, for she is a ship.

There was a small shipment of fish today. Most of it was mackerel, and all the mackerel went to New York. Friday is Bunker Hill day in Boston, a holiday, with nothing in the business line. There was no quotation on mackerel, no fish being sold. The price is so high that the fish is shipped on commission and the fishermen, not the buyers, take the chances.

KING AMIABILITY MEDALS.

Voted to Alice Loretta Dunn, Coddington, and Marion Emeline Blaine, Mumford.

The King medals for amiability, which are given at the close of the school year to two of the girls in the ninth grade who are natives of Newport, one in each of the two schools, have been awarded, by vote of the girls in the respective schools, to Alice Loretta Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Dunn, of 8 Narragansett avenue, in the Coddington school, and to Marion Emeline Blaine, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Blaine, of 36 Rhode Island avenue, in the Mumford school.

A PEOPLE'S LIBRARY ART EXHIBIT.

The People's Library has received as a loan from the Library Art Club 100 mounted photographs of the English Lake District, illustrating not only its scenery but also its literary interest. The pictures are attractive and are accompanied by descriptive text, maps and a printed catalogue. They have been hung in the various rooms of the library, according to the specified arrangement of the Art Club, and form an unusually harmonious and well correlated collection, which will remain on exhibition three weeks. If sufficient interest is shown, it is hoped to make similar exhibitions a permanent feature of the work of the library.

—At the Commencement exercises at Brown University Wednesday Professor Benjamin Louis Antoine Henin of this city received the degree of master of arts for advanced work. Professor Henin has been an instructor in French at the university for several years.

—The mining operations at the corner of Cannon and Thames street, were still going on this morning, when there was a pile of earth on the sidewalk and in the street without a team at hand to carry it away. What seems to have been done was to have the pile which fill the hydrant carted away.

—Mr. Herbert E. Cory, a former resident of Newport and a graduate of Brown University in the class of 1906, has passed an examination at Harvard University, entitling him to the degree of doctor of philosophy. Mr. Cory has been instructor in English in the University of California during the past winter.

After his retirement he made his home in Newport until two years ago, when he moved to Brooklyn. He will be buried from his late residence with full military honors, Friday.

—The beach opened Wednesday—that is, the opening of the bathhouses for the use of the public, which was set for Sunday and was washed away by the rain, took place Wednesday, when the sun was shining brightly. There were no formal ceremonies, neither were the repairs completed, but people can bathe just the same as if there was a pavilion there.

—Wednesday Mr. Curran, of the firm of Comstock & Canning, Providence, filed a notice of appeal from the probate of the will of John Woodland, alias Woodlin, which was admitted to probate May 9 last and which left $5 each to his brother, Louis Woodlin, or Woodland, and his sister, Mary, in whose behalf the appeal was taken. Burdick & McLeod are counsel for the will.

—There was a brief but lively runaway early this afternoon. A horse attached to a wagon became frightened as soon as it hitched on the 1 o'clock trip of the ferryboat at Lopez wharf. The animal dashed up the wharf across Thames street and up Cotton's court, where it collided with a piazza with force sufficient to disentangle the horse from the wagon. The damage was light and an automobile in the path of the runaway escaped unhurt.

—Mrs. Fannie G. Dwyer, formerly Miss Fannie G. Sherman of this city and sister of Mrs. W. I. Gaddard, died in Providence today, after an illness of some months. Mrs. Dwyer has lived in Pawtucket and Central Falls for a number of years. She was formerly a compositor employed in the Daily News job room. Mrs. Dwyer's husband died three or four years ago. Last week her son, in returning from work, was run over by an electric car and lost both legs, in Providence. A daughter also survives.

PASSED BY THE SENATE.

Bill Appropriating $50,000 for Public Building at the Pier.

[Special despatch to the News.]

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Senator Wetmore called up and had passed in the Senate today the bill appropriating $50,000 for a public building at Narragansett Pier.

Lord.

MISS ANNE F. PAUL.

Death at Her Washington Street House of a Well Known Newport Resident.

Miss Anne Flower Paul, a well known resident of Newport, died at her Washington Street home in this city Wednesday afternoon, after an illness of several weeks. She came here early, as usual, to spend the summer, but became ill and was taken to the hospital for an operation. It was found inadvisable to perform this, and as little hope of recovery was given Miss Paul asked to be taken back to her residence, where she had spent many happy hours of her life and where she wished to die.

Miss Paul was a daughter of the late William Paul of Philadelphia and had been for some years a resident here, having a wide circle of friends among the permanent residents of the city, particularly those on the Point. She took much interest in St John's Church and was active in all its work, was interested in St Barnabas Guild of Nurses and had frequently entertained them at her home, also in the Women's Exchange and other local institutions, and gave liberally of her resources to charitable work.

Miss Paul's winter home was at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, but a large part of each year was spent in Newport, her fondness for this city, especially Washington street, apparently increasing as she came each year to enjoy once more the pleasures which her residence here afforded.

AGAIN IT RAINED.

No Joke for Highway Employes and Others Who are Forced to Lose Outdoor Work.

It rained today. This is no joke; it is the solemn, dismal, melancholy fact, as the men of the highway department, painters and others working outdoors know to their sorrow. It means no pay, and there will be plenty of times next winter when it could rain and there will be no work. The weather department had promised a full week of sunshine and dryness, but it went wrong and rained.

It was about 6 o'clock when it started, and it had finished by nine and tried to clear up. It was a sort of a bluff at clearing, though the granite little sidewalks dried up and it looked as though there might be a little more sunshine, some time. The wind was from the east, and that did not promise much in the way of clearing. The rain had not been wholly unexpected; it was rather feared than hoped for, but it came. And no one wanted it. There was a circle around the moon Wednesday night. This was convincing proof to some, but the rain this morning was more convincing to more.

SALVATION ARMY SPEAKERS.

Special Services to be Held Indoors and Outdoors During the Next Few Weeks.

The Salvation Army is to hold special meetings in this city Saturday and Sunday, when Major Walker and Ensign Hopkins of Boston will come to assist the local workers. The visiting officers will speak Saturday evening on Washington square and in the hall in the Southwick building, and Sunday at the Christian Church, Portsmouth, in the morning, at the Bijou Theatre in the afternoon and at the Second Baptist Church in the evening.

Saturday and Sunday of the second week in July Mrs. Adjutant Whittemore of New York, founder of the Door of Hope Mission, will visit Newport, speaking on Washington square and in the Army hall Saturday evening, and Sunday at the Friends' Church in the morning, at the Young Men's Christian Association in the afternoon and at the United Congregational Church in the evening. Mrs. Whittemore is well known throughout the country, particularly for her rescue work in connection with the Salvation Army and in connection with the Door of Hope Mission, which has headquarters in New York with branches in various parts of the country, there being one in New London. She is considered a forceful and interesting speaker.

POLICE BUSINESS.

There was some business in police circles Wednesday night and there were some prisoners before the court this morning. Three were drunks, one of whom went to jail for five days and two were fined. There were two men for fast driving, who were fined $10 and costs each; one paid. Five sailors from the Dixie were arrested for revelling on Long Wharf. It is suspected that this revelling included the disappearance of the big lobster sign which hung in front of a restaurant on the wharf; at any rate, it is gone. Three of the men pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs each; two pleaded not guilty.

THE STONE BRIDGE CLOSING.

The draw at Stone Bridge, which has been closed to shipping for the past ten days, it is predicted will remain so at least two weeks more. The boatmen are much disturbed over the conditions, but to those who go by road there is not even a suggestion that the bridge is out of order. Special parts are to be made, and when made must be placed in position. As it is, the breaking of a cog wheel, which flew overboard, and the consequent injury to a shaft, prevents the raising of one of the leaves. The other leaf is working all right, but opens but half the passageway for vessels, or but 50 feet, and this means difficult navigating through the opening where the waters lash themselves into foam. It is out of the question for sailing craft, even of small size, to pass through except under the most favorable conditions of wind and tide. Steamers of not too great size go through, but it is an undertaking which few care to look and under certain conditions none will try.

The greater hardship of course is against the fleet of steamers running to Seaconnet Point, as they desire to make the passage on their regular trips each day and with the excursion season opening the line sees all sorts of difficulty. It has complained to Washington. If the complaint is recognized and the state is ordered to open the draw until repairs are made it may prove not only considerable of an engineering feat, but will surely close the bridge to all road travel. Then there will be much complaint from another source—automobilists, drivers of wagons, carriages, the electric car company and pedestrians. Shipping interests are now endeavoring to represent that the style of construction is wrong, but the government has already approved the design as a suitable spanning of the waterway at that point.

STEAMER PEQUOT SOLD.

Old-Time Boat, Formerly the Thetis, to be Stripped and Her Hull Burned for the Iron.

Steamer Pequot, one of the old vessels of the New England Navigation Company, has been sold to Dunn & Co. of Fall River. Wednesday the new owners took possession of her at Stonington, Conn., where she was laid up, to remove the engine, boiler and other material which can be taken out preliminary to burning the hull for the ironwork in her. Chief Engineer John H. Thayer, who was in charge of the engines, came to this city for orders.

The Pequot was formerly steamer Thetis, was built in 1864 at New York and is 1,360 gross tons, 916 net tons 219 feet long, 35 feet beam and 16 feet deep and had engines of 900 horse power. She was formerly of the Neptune Steamship Company and was used as a freighter on various lines until laid up because more modern boats were more economical.

THEATRE BILL CHANGES.

New pictures at the Star Theatre include "Isabella Of Aragon," depicting scenes from the life of the queen of Philip V of Spain with fidelity to the historical narrative; "The Fate of a Gambler," a dramatic subject; "A Marvelous Cure," "That Gentleman Has Won a Million" and "The Nichols On a Vacation." Miss Betty Moncriff will render "Dickey Moore," a catchy melody, and Matt Berati will sing "Leaving," a popular march song.

At the Bijou the new pictures include a series of views of "Berlin, the Capital of Germany," showing its parks, streets, buildings, etc., terminating with a picture of the emperor and empress on their return from the autumn review; "Out of the Past," the life story of an old musician; "Winter Bathing in the West Indies" and two comedies, "The Surgeon's Visit" and "The Messenger Boy Magician." A special attraction is the appearance of the famed cornetist, Mr. Gustav F. Heim of the Boston Symphony orchestra. Eddie Foyer is introducing his Black Sheep and George Nickelson is heard in character songs.

MAY HAVE BEEN IN ITALY.

Georgetown Seismograph Records Heavy Shocks for Over Two Hours.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—An earthquake of considerable intensity and duration occurred this morning at a distance of approximately 4,000 miles from Washington, according to the seismological observatory of Georgetown University. The shocks began at 1:48 a. m. and continued two hours and 23 minutes, ceasing at 4:11 a. m. The preliminary tremors were followed by two heavy shocks. The first lasted three minutes, beginning at 1:59 a. m., and the second lasting the same time, followed it immediately. A series of lesser shocks and continuous tremors followed until 4:11 a. m.

Observers at the university were unable definitely to locate the disturbance. The movements were mainly east and west. It is considered probable that the locality of the disturbance was in Italy.

IMPROVEMENTS ABANDONED.

Santa Fe Cannot Procure Money, Owing to Freight Rate Hold-Up.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 16.—Projected improvements calling for the expenditure of $3,000,000 by the Santa Fe road in California have been abandoned. The reason, according to a statement from the offices of the company last night, is that the government's action in holding up the proposed increase in freight rates made it impossible to procure the necessary money on equitable terms.

Oscillations Felt at St. Ignatius College.

Plans were made for the annual picnic, which will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Alton Barker in Portsmouth, June 20.

—The dampness today caused another suspension of work on the Colonial Theatre site. Even with clearing weather it is likely that a day or two of drying weather will be required before work can be resumed, because of the trouble the teams have in coming out over the soft ground. The builders are anxious to push the work along to the point where they can get in the earth work that must be given the foundation walls of the foyer building.

PULP AND PAPER SITUATION.

Prices to Soar Owing to High Duty and a Short Supply.

A Lincoln Memorial—The Western Union Case—Possible Candidate for Speakers.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The wood pulp and print paper situation is growing rather serious and is complicated by the decision of the Treasury Department that wood on Quebec crown lands cut before the date of May 1 must pay the countervailing duty of $5 cents a ton and the action of that province in practically prohibiting the exportation of wood cut after May 1. The gravity of the matter is made still clearer by the report of Commissioner of Corporations Herbert Knox Smith, which states that "less than four days' supply of print paper was on hand in the American mills April 30 last. All of this means increase in price and affects not only every newspaper in the country, but indirectly every reader of newspapers.

The plan for a great Lincoln memorial in Washington is actually under way, as a society has been organized and plans are being devised. The first step will be the raising of $5,000,000, and it is to be decided whether this will be done by popular subscriptions or by Congressional appropriation. The temporary chairman of the association is Hanna Taylor, former minister to Spain, whose home is in this city. Committees are being named to formulate plans.

Gifford Pinchot claims to have found a joker in the public lands withdrawal bill. It is in that part of the measure which provides that in lands withdrawn from public entry, if any mineral other than coal, oil, gas or phosphate can be found, it shall be open for private appropriation. Mr. Pinchot claims inspired the government's hold on the water power sites over which some of the conservation controversy has raged. "Even if false claims are made that mineral has been found," he says, "then the burden of proof is upon the government, which must go to the trouble and expense of defending the rights which it is the object of the bill to secure." He adds that this is the only one of the conservation bills that stands any chance of passage and that properly amended it ought to pass, since otherwise it may be claimed that on lands which are now withdrawn the withdrawals expire after Congress adjourns without action regarding them.

The action of the House exempting labor unions from prosecutions under the Sherman anti-trust law has been overturned in the Senate. The provision was contained in the sundry civil appropriation bill in connection with the item appropriating money for the prosecution of the trusts. It still has a chance in conference committee.

The indictment of the Western Union Telegraph company for furnishing wire and picket service to the bucket shops is one more proof that the government is very much in earnest in its proceedings against the bucket shops and against all other forms of gambling in futures that can be got at under the federal law. The case against the Western Union is laid in the District of Columbia. There are 42 counts in the indictment, charging as many separate and distinct offenses.

The applause given Walter I. Smith of Iowa on his return after being renominated in the recent primaries in his district may have more significance than mere personal popularity. Judge Smith has been quietly talked of as the proper candidate for Speaker in case the Cannon opposition crowds Uncle Joe out of the race. A notable fact in this connection is that on balloting at the Republican caucus for members of the new rules committee Smith led the list, receiving even more votes than John Dalzell. He unmistakably insisted, however, that Dalzell should be chairman of the committee.

The action of the Senate in restoring the "immediately available" clause as to the President's traveling expenses may precipitate a fight between the two Houses. The item was ruled out on a point of order in the House. The Senate wanted it so that the new appropriation will be available during the fiscal years 1910 and 1911. Thus the President may not have to pay car fare out of his own pocket after all.

The incident of inviting Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York to on the White House created a buzz of gossip for an hour and then was put aside as "an closed incident" by administration. Harrison is called the sixth in commission in the interpretation of the Wickersham opinion on the Ballinger-Glavis case. This Ballinger matter seems to have the power of causing unpleasant happenings that follow after it like a comet's tail.

PLUCKING BOARD'S TASK.

Judging from the unusually small number of applications for voluntary retirement June 30 next under the terms of the personnel act of March 3, 1899, the navy "plucking board" is confronted with considerable of a task. The main purpose of the law of 1899 was to enable officers to reach commanding rank earlier in their careers than is now the case. It provides that there must be at least 40 vacancies a year above the grade of lieutenant. If this number of natural vacancies does not occur officers may apply for voluntary retirement with the rank and three-fourths sea pay of the next higher grade. If there are still an insufficient number to create the 40 vacancies required by the law a board of rear admirals, known unofficially as the "plucking board," is appointed for the purpose of compulsorily retiring a sufficient number of officers between the grades of ensign and rear admiral to make up the required list of 40 vacancies.

The law permits the compulsory retirement of five captains, four commanders, four lieutenant commanders and two lieutenants. This year it is expected that this number of officers in the various grades will be "plucked" unless additional applications for voluntary retirement are received at the department within the next few weeks. The board will make its report to Secretary of the Navy Meyer June 30, naming the officers who have applied for voluntary retirement and designating those who have been selected for compulsory retirement.

Hires

for Growing and Grown People

You study carefully the food question for your family—do you keep as careful watch over what they drink? Do you know it is pure and clean, thus helping you to keep them well and to build a good foundation to enable them to get the best from their studies, or work, or play, and later on to bless you because you taught and enforced the morals of pure food as well as pure thoughts and words? Be careful — children don't know—you should know what is best for them.

Hires is pre-eminently a safe beverage because it is pure and clean. It is delicious and satisfying. Its every ingredient is planned for safety in health to children, and the older they grow the more they need it. Hires aids digestion and relieves indigestion.

You don't have to teach children to drink Hires—they love it as they love air and sunshine, of which Hires is made. When tired from overwork or play or study, nothing refreshes like Hires, yet it contains no drugs, no false stimulants, no stomach irritants, such as soap bark, etc., used in many fountain beverages to produce a frothy effect.

But don't ask for rootbeer—ask for "Hires" and thus be sure to get the only genuine *root*beer.

NO CONNECTION WITH ABSCESS.

Abrasion on Knee Causes Emperor to Cancel Engagements.

POTSDAM, June 16.—Emperor William, who recently was inconvenienced by an abscess on the right wrist, is now troubled with an abrasion on the side of his right knee. It was produced by horseback riding, and caused His Majesty to abandon His purpose of witnessing today's military manoeuvres at Doeberitz. He has also cancelled an engagement for tomorrow at Hanover, and he will not witness the yacht race at Hamburg Saturday. The emperor's household physician stated today that the general condition of His Majesty is most satisfactory. The emperor's saddle horses have been trained to guidance through pressure from the rider's knees. Recently His Majesty has taken long rides, and, the skin having been rubbed off in a spot on the inside of the right knee, a blister resulted. This afternoon an official bulletin was issued cautioning the public against the impression that the inflammation was in any way connected with the recent abscess on the wrist, which is now healed. The bulletin adds that His Majesty has not experienced any rise of temperature.

Following the manoeuvres at Doeberitz today the emperor received the generals who had participated.

While the physicians assert they do not consider the trouble serious, it is certain that His Majesty must remain quiet for some days, at least. It is unlikely that he will attend the yachting regatta which will open at Kiel next Wednesday. If he does not go to Kiel it will be the first time he has missed a regatta since the Imperial Yacht Club was founded, in 1890.

BAYARDO CAPTURES GOLD CUP.

American Jockey "Danny" Maher Rides at Ascot Heath Races.

ASCOT HEATH, England, June 16.—The gold cup, the feature of today's racing here, was captured by Mr. Fairie's Bayardo, ridden by the American jockey "Danny" Maher. W. K. Vanderbilt's Sealick II. was second and J. Lowry's Bachelor's Double, third. There were 13 starters. Gold cup day attracted a great crowd. The big event was the international contest. The entries included American and French horses as well as British.

The American bred Sir Martin owned by Louis Winans and ridden by "Skeets" Martin, and Bayardo carried the bulk of the public money. W. K. Vanderbilt's Sealick II. and M. A. Aumont's Avon were brought over from Paris to compete in this event. The gold cup, with a value of 500 sovereigns, with 3,500 sovereigns in specie, in addition, is offered for three-year-olds and up. The distance is two miles and a half.

The all-ages stakes of five sovereigns each, with 300 sovereigns added for two-year-olds and up, distance six furlongs, was won by H. P. Whitney's New Castle II. Lawrenny was second and Nevolnice third. Only three horses ran.

FLOODS WORST IN MANY YEARS.

Twenty Lives Lost and $2,500,000 Property Loss in Switzerland.

BERNE, Switzerland, June 16.—The floods in Switzerland caused by continued rains, particularly in the eastern and central districts have proved the most disastrous in 60 years. Twenty lives have been lost in the swollen waters. Many bridges, constructed at great expense, have been either carried away or seriously damaged. Property losses aggregating $2,500,000 already have been reported.

SORRY HE CANNOT BE THERE.

Roosevelt's Letter Arouses Enthusiasm At Missionary Conference.

EDINBURG, Scotland, June 16.—A letter from Theodore Roosevelt expressing sympathy with the movement and regret at his inability to be present was read at today's session of the world's missionary conference. The communication, which was addressed to Silas McBee, an American delegate, aroused much enthusiasm. The former President wrote:

"London, May 16, 1910.

"My Dear Sir. It is a matter of real and profound regret to me that I am imperatively called away to America, so that I am unable to be present in person at the world's missionary conference. I regret it the more as, if I had been able to be present it would have been as a delegate from the Dutch Reformed Church of America, to which I belong.

"Nothing like your proposed conference has ever hitherto taken place. From any nations and from many churches your delegates gather on this great occasion to initiate a movement which I not only hope but believe, will be fraught with far-reaching good. For the first time in four centuries Christians of every name come together, without renouncing their several convictions or sacrificing their several principles, to confer as to that common action may be taken in order to make their common Christianity not only known to but a vital force among the two-thirds of the human race to whom, as yet, it is hardly even a name. Surely every man imbued, as every man should be, with the ethical teachings of Christianity must rejoice in such an effort to combine the strength of all the churches in the endeavor to Christianize humanity, and to Christianize it not merely in name but in very fact.

"Your conference represents the practical effort to apply the teachings of the gospel to what the Epistle of June calls 'the common salvation.' An infinite amount of work remains to be done before we can regard ourselves as being within even measurable distance of the desired goal—an infinite amount, at home in the dark places which too often closely surround the brightest centres of light and an infinite amount abroad in those dark places of the earth where blackness is as yet unrelieved by any light.

"When such is the high purpose to which you have dedicated yourselves it is eminently fitting that your invitation should have gone to all Christian churches in all lands. I am sure that there will be a general and, I hope, a universal response. In missionary work, above all other kinds of Christian work, it is imperative to remember that a divided Christendom can only imperfectly bear witness to the essential unity of Christianity. I believe that without compromise of belief, without loss of the positive good contained in the recognition of diversities of gifts and differences of administration, the Christian churches may yet find a way to cordial co-operation and friendship as regards the great underlying essentials upon which, as a foundation, all Christian churches were built. This is one of the lessons which has been particularly impressed upon me by what I have seen of Christian work in Africa, both in heathen and in Mohammedan lands. I believe that unity in a spirit of Christian brotherhood for such broad Christian work will tend, not to do away with differences of doctrine, but to prevent us from laying too much stress on these differences of doctrine.

"It is written in the Scriptures that 'He that doeth my will shall know of the doctrine;' but the reverse of this proposition cannot be found in Holy Writ. Emphasis is to be put upon 'doing the will;' if only we can make up our minds to work together with earnest sincerity for the common good we shall find that doctrinal differences in no way interfere with our doing this work.

"Wishing you all success, I am,
"Very sincerely yours,
"Theodore Roosevelt."

RETIREMENT SEEMS ASSURED.

Both the Senate and House Committees Report Moody Bills.

WASHINGTON June 16—The retirement of Associate Justice Moody of the Supreme Court of the United States, on full pay, was practically assured today by the action of both the Senate and House committees on judiciary in favorably reporting bills introduced yesterday by Senator Lodge and Representative Gillette of Massachusetts.

In the Senate Chairman Clark asked for immediate consideration, but withdrew his motion temporarily, at the suggestion of Senator Bacon, in order that there might be a larger attendance to consider a measure of such importance. It is planned to take up the bill in the House tomorrow, and, so far as can be learned, there is no opposition to the passage of the bills in either branch.

When the Moody bill was taken up in the Senate committee today there was considerable discussion as to the propriety of a successor being appointed, and of his taking a seat, in advance of approval by the Senate.

QUAKES NOTED AT HARVARD.

Two Maximum Periods in Long Disturbance, Apparently to South.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 16.—The seismic disturbance manifested early today and recorded by the seismograph at the Georgetown University at 1:48 a. m. was noted on a similar instrument a Harvard University one minute later. Two maximum periods were noted at Harvard, and the delicate needle of the seismograph continued to oscillate nearly two hours. The distance of the origin of the disturbance was estimated at 6,000 miles, apparently toward the south.

DISTURBANCE VIOLENT.

St. Louis Seismograph Indicates It as Some 3,000 Miles West.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 16.—Earthquake shocks extending over one hour and nine minutes were recorded this morning by the seismograph of St. Louis University. The main vibration was at 12:59 a. m. The direction of the oscillation was from west to east, and indicated a violent disturbance from 2,500 to 3,000 miles west.

CHARTER CHANGE DESIRABLE.

Brown Committee on Revision Re-Affirms Previous Report.

PROVIDENCE, June 16.—Re-affirming the preliminary report made a year ago that a change in the charter of Brown University making it non-sectarian was desirable, the committee on charter revision submitted its final report at the meeting of the corporation of the university today. The committee states:

"A year ago this committee made a preliminary report recommending that the purposes of the founders in the light of present conditions would be best fulfilled by the removal of certain specific requirements from the charter, and that harmonious action to this end, with due consideration of all interests affected, would greatly promote the welfare of the university. That statement your committee, after another year of study, affirms."

The committee recommended that the corporation consider the matter of securing such funds as will enable the university to have an adequate pension system, and also presented a form of amendment to the charter and form of declaration.

MURDERER KILLS HIMSELF.

First Holds Providence Detectives, Police and Firemen at Bay.

PROVIDENCE, June 16.—The identity of a man who shot and killed Joseph Novogrosky and then committed suicide, after holding the police, fire department and hundreds of citizens at bay over two hours last night, was established today as that of Fred Leclair, aged 27, and the same man who shot a man and a woman and fired at another recently. William Dyson, brother of James Dyson, who was shot in the chin in his father's store in Pawtucket June 4; Flora Plante, whose scalp was grazed by a bullet from the revolver of a man who pretended to be a bank agent, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mathilda Plante, who was fired at by the same man, all positively identified the body of Leclair at the city morgue today as that of their assailant. Leclair was also identified by relatives and friends from Pawtucket.

For nearly three hours the entire detective force of the city, most of the police of Precinct 1 and a part of the fire department endeavored to dislodge him from the cellar of Novogrosky's second hand clothing store. A bullet which pierced the brim of Patrolman Patrick Blessing's helmet, and came within an ace of going into his brain was the murderer's only response to the summons to surrender. Finally, after two lines of hose had flooded the cellar, the police ventured down and found his dead body. He had saved his last shots for himself, and, knowing that he could not hope to escape the ever-increasing crowd of police which surrounded the building, had put a bullet into his brain.

The murderer had all the advantage of the police in the cellar, as the place was as dark as a pocket, and the courage of the officers who ventured down to what looked like a remarkably good chance of getting killed, or at least wounded, was publicly commended by Mayor Fletcher, who was among the big crowd of spectators assembled.

The young desperado was born in St. Johnsville, Canada. He lived for some time in Fall River, and also at McKeever, N. Y. Lately he had been employed by the Pawtucket Gas Company as a team driver. His sister said today that he had been acting strangely for two weeks. The finding of a tin box in Novogrosky's store, broken open, with money scattered over the floor, leads to the belief that the motive for the crime was robbery.

OFF FOR A WORLD TOUR.

Secretary Dickinson's Objective Study of Philippine Conditions.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—It was learned today that when Secretary Dickinson leaves Washington tonight he will be off for a tour of the world. The objective point will be the Philippines, where he will spend five weeks studying conditions.

Secretary Dickinson will go direct from Washington to Nashville, Tenn., where he will witness a military tournament. He will leave Nashville Tuesday for San Francisco. On steamer Siberia, on which he will sail from San Francisco for the Philippines via Honolulu and Japan, he will be accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson, his son, J. M. Dickinson, Jr.; General Clarence R. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards and daughter, Miss Bessie Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson, Lincoln R. Clark, confidential clerk, and George Long, a messenger. The Secretary will inspect Pearl Harbor and the fortifications at Honolulu.

The Secretary and his party are due to arrive at Yokohama July 15, and will be in Japan until July 20, going overland to Nagasaki, where they will sail for Manila. The party is scheduled to leave Manila September 6, returning via Hong Kong, Pekin and the trans-Siberian railroad to Moscow, thence to Warsaw, and through to France, taking steamer for New York at Cherbourg about October 8 or 10.

10—The opening stock market was slightly irregular, but most stocks sold lower than last night and the tendency was downwards after the opening. Atlantic Coast Line and American Smelting declined 1, and Amalgamated Copper ⅝. Chicago & Alton rose 1¼, and Westinghouse Electric 1.

11—Fluctuations were uncertain and the range was confined to fractions, with very little stock changing hands. St. Paul, United States Steel and the Copper stocks rallied, while Union Pacific, Reading, and the Eastern trunk lines stocks fell off. Lackawanna yielded 10 points and Kansas City Southern and Chicago Great Western preferred 1.

Noon—Money on call, steady, at 2¾ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½ to 5½ per cent. The neglected state of the market was unrelieved, and habitual operators apparently resigned themselves to a period of idleness pending some new developments. Stocks continued in scanty supply and prices hardened in response to very light demand. Union Pacific reached 1 over last night, and St. Paul 1⅝. Bonds were steady.

NOT MANY THERE TO SEE.

But There Was a Good Game and Newport Won from Manville by a Narrow Margin.

A glance about the grounds at Wellington Park Wednesday afternoon was enough to convince one that there was to be a good base ball game as there were few in attendance. When one of the players asked "Have they opened the gates?" he simply echoed the thought in the minds of others. When the time for play came there were by count 17 in the grand stand and 22 in the bleacher seats, but the men played the game regardless of the presence or absence of spectators, and it was an interesting game to watch. At times it looked like scoring, and then the pitcher would tighten up and there was no scoring. The sky was dark and the conditions not so pleasing as they had been in the morning, but the weather was good for spectators.

Newport won from Manville by a close margin but ought to have won more handily. Drohan was effective when he needed to be, and so was Thompson, except in the seventh, when with two out he allowed two hits. These with two errors gave the visitors two runs. In the ninth the first two up made hits, but he tightened and so did the fielders, and the visitors were blanked.

In the last half of the sixth inning Drohan pitched five balls and the side was out. In the next half inning the visitors should have been retired on four pitched balls but an error came in and it looked as if it was all off.

Nelson appeared as the arbiter and gave general satisfaction. He had his voice with him and the spectators could hear what his decisions were. This pleased them, and they were less critical than they had been with Sullivan, who had not so good a voice. The score:

The Fort Adams team went to East Greenwich Wednesday and lost, 8 to 4, to East Greenwich, playing on an Alpine scenery exhibit.

There seems to be no foundation for the rumor that Fort Adams and Fort Greble were to join teams on the mainland and form a league. There is no gate at Adams or Greble and a league needs gate receipts if players are to be maintained.

The Bristol Phenix announces that Newport may play the Bristol team in that town Saturday, and that if it does it will be a test of how much Bristol is willing to pay to see a good game. They seem to be having their financial troubles in Bristol, also.

A PRETTY NEW YORK WEDDING.

Mr. George H. Hull, Jr., of Tuxedo Marries Miss Marguerite Pierson at Home of the Bride.

At the home of General and Mrs. J. Fred Pierson in New York, Wednesday afternoon, their daughter, Miss Marguerite Rhodes Pierson, was married to Mr. George Huntington Hull, Jr., of Tuxedo, Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, a cousin of the bride by marriage, officiating. The ceremony was performed before a temporary altar in the drawing room and was witnessed by relatives and a limited number of close friends. As a compliment to the bride, marguerite were prominent in the decoration of the drawing rooms, being used with pink roses, peonies and other blossoms.

The bridal procession passed through the hall to the library and thence to the drawing room. Miss Helen Cadwalader of Philadelphia was the only bridesmaid. She wore a gown of pale yellow chiffon and satin embellished with lace, and a hat of pale blue satin lined with pink roses. There were two little flower girls, Susan Pierson, a niece of the bride, and Harriet McKim daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. McKim of Tuxedo. Both wore pretty slips of white chiffon and satin, and hats of white Leghorn trimmed with pink satin bows.

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Clarence W. Jester, Howard Plummer, Carl W. Ladd, James Rhodes Pierson and Ellis Adams. A reception followed the ceremony, the buffet luncheon being served by Alexander Leclercq of Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull left the city after the reception for an automobile trip. They will spend the summer in Short Hills, N. J.

JOHN AUSTIN STEVENS.

Noted Son of a Noted Father of the Same Name.

Death of Well-Known Public Official and Writer on Economic and Historical Subjects.

Mr. John Austin Stevens died early this morning at his home on Rhode Island avenue, after an illness of several months. He had not been able to be out for a considerable length of time, and within a few weeks his illness had taken a more serious turn and he had steadily failed. His death was due to the infirmities of old age, he being in his eighty-fourth year.

John Austin Stevens was a son of John Austin Stevens, a well known banker of New York, for many years secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the organizers and first president of the Merchant's Exchange of that city. He was grandson of Major General Ebenezer Stevens, who was a member of the Artillery Company of Boston, participating in the destruction of the tea in Boston harbor in 1773. Shortly afterwards he came to Rhode Island, where he raised two companies of artillery and one of artificers for the Colonial army. He later took part in the expedition against Quebec, commanded the artillery at Ticonderoga and Stillwater, was made a lieutenant colonel of John Lamb's regiment, served under Lafayette in Virginia and for a time commanded the artillery at the seige of Yorktown. He entered New York with Washington in 1783. After the war he served as major general of the New York state militia.

The younger John Austin Stevens was born in New York January 21, 1827, being the only son of John Austin and Abby (Weld) Stevens. He graduated from Harvard College in 1846 and was engaged in business in New York from 1846 to 1861. In 1862 he became secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and held that position during the period of the Civil war, resigning in 1868, after he had published the Colonial Records of the Chamber and organized the celebration of its one hundredth anniversary. He also founded the portrait gallery of New York worthies which is now one of the Chamber of Commerce's chief attractions.

Mr. Stevens had taken part in the formation of the Republican party and in the autumn of 1860 organized the great meetings in New York in behalf of the election of Lincoln. He declined the position of consul general to Paris and other offices, but gave earnest support to the cause of the Union. He was a founder and the manager of the Loyal Publication Society and organized the Loyal National League and the National War Committee, which succeeded the Union Defense Committee in the aid of the government.

Visiting Europe after his services to the Chamber of Commerce had ended, Mr Stevens witnessed the fall of the French empire, the proclamation of the republic and the reign of the Commune. He resided in London for a time and returned to New York in 1870, taking an active interest on behalf of the mercantile interests of the city in the financial and other public questions of the time. In 1876 he became librarian of the New York Historical Society, which office he retained two years, and in that time organized the meetings in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the adoption of New York's constitution and the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Harlem Plains. He rendered important services in the National Commemoration of the Centennials of the surrender of Yorktown in 1881 and in New York in 1883, of the British evacuation of the city.

Mr. Stevens also founded the Society of the Sons of the Revolution of which he was the first president. In 187. he founded the Magazine of American History, which he edited for several years, and had written much upon economic and historical subjects, devoting himself particularly to researches of the latter character.

In addition to contributing frequently to local and other historical publications, he published many addresses, books, pamphlets and papers, including the following: "The Valley of the Rio Grande, Its Topography and Resources" (1864), "Memorial of the Chamber of Commerce in Ocean Steamship Navigation" (1864), "Colonial Records of the New York Chamber of Commerce" (1876), "The Progress of New York in a Century" (1876), "The Expedition of Lafayette against Arnold," published by the Maryland Historical Society, (1878); "Memoirs of George Gibbs, Librarian" (1873); "Letters to New York Times by Knickerbocker" (1873), "The Burgoyne Campaign" (1877), "The French in Rhode Island" (1873-81), "New York City in the Nineteenth Century" (1891) and "Albert Gallatin," in the American Statesmen series (1902). He also contributed largely to the historical chapters in the History of Newport County, published in 1888, and was a regular contributor to the Rhode Island and Newport Historical Magazines.

Mr. Stevens was married in 1856 to Margaret, daughter of William Lewis Morris of Morrisania, N. Y. Two daughters, who made their home with him, survive. Mr. Stevens had been a resident of Newport for 20 of more years, having a residence on Rhode Island avenue. During his life in Newport he devoted much of his time to historical research and writing, having completed his Life of Albert Gallatin in 1902, when he was 12 years old. He had frequently spoken on historical subjects in public meetings in Newport and had a wide circle of friends in the community, who found it a source of pleasure as well as benefit to listen to him.

It was voted to meet Wednesday, June 29, at 7:30 o'clock P. M. to purge the jury box and draw jurors.

The funeral of Miss Sophia L. Green took place Wednesday at 1 o'clock at her late residence, which had been her home nearly all her long life, the present residence having been built in 1835 on the site of one formerly owned by Robert Pigh. The service was conducted by Rev. J. Sturgis Pearce of St. Paul's and was entirely from the prayer book, except the reading of the poem, "Abide with me." The burial was in St. Paul's churchyard the bearers being Benjamin S. Anthony, William K. Boyd, Constant C. Chase, Oscar C. Manchester, William B. Clarke and Charles G. Clarke. The floral tributes were a large cluster of pink roses, a wreath of cream roses and white peonies, a wreath of galax and white roses and a flat bouquet of white and pink carnations and fine white flowers. Her nephew, Charles Green, came from Summit, N. J., to attend the funeral.

The whist and strawberry supper given by St. Mary's Guild Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Manchester on Quaker hill was largely attended. A number from Newport and Middletown were present. Mrs. W. Frank Kenyon took the first prize at whist, an apron, and Mrs. Fred Bacheller the consolation, a duster. The rooms were decorated with laurel, great masses in the height of its beauty banking the fireplace, made a centrepiece for tables and adorning mantels, tables, sideboard, desk and windows, while so large a reserve was on hand that large bunches were given to any departing guests who wished, and most of them went home laden. The supper, of rolls, coffee, strawberries and cream and cake drew forth much praise, as did the beauty of the table equipments. The older members of the guild acted as a committee to arrange the supper and the younger members helped serve it. Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hunter and Miss Edith Hunter were present for the first time at a public social gathering, since their return from a visit of eight months abroad. The number of tickets sold showed an attendance of more than 100, and as nearly everything was given for the supper, the receipts must have been quite satisfactory.

Constables John Corcoran and Frederick W. Holman, who served warrants on Richard Duckworth and his son, Kay Duckworth for the illegal sale of liquor, Monday afternoon, went to the Duckworth place in disguise and were taken for two wee travelers. After they had what they considered all the evidence necessary they served warrants which had been made out in Newport some hours before. The men were taken to Newport. Clerk George H. Kelly of the district court was summoned to the jail and they were given an opportunity to plead, which they did as not guilty and were released on bonds. Wednesday, the elder Duckworth was seen in Fall River.

Mr. Moses Ffield of Providence, for many years an important factor in B. B. Knight's manufacturing enterprises, was in town Tuesday. He was formerly a frequent visitor at Mr. J. A. Sisson's, but ill health has prevented his coming hitherto and the family with which he was so intimate has apssed away, the house where he spent many a pleasant hour razed to the ground and the farm and its environments now belong to Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt.

Mr. Raymond Franklin Borden, who has received the scholarship at Brown University from the Rogers High School, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo E. Borden of this town. He is a young man of unusual ability, being able to draw caricatures or carts, and write good poetry. He is a member of the Christian Church and active in its work and that of the Sunday School. His double cousin, Roy Borden, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Borden has just been graduated from the Moses Brown School, Providence, and will enter college in the fall, though where is not yet determined.

Mr. William Coggeshall Anthony, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anthony, one of the graduates of the Rogers High School, has this week been graduated from Brown University. His father and mother and other members of the family and friends from Portsmouth attended the Commencement exercises Wednesday.

Mrs. Allie Savage is at one of the Pinard cottages in Newport.

Mrs. Frederick A. Lawton and her daughter were guests of Mrs. Samuel A. Carter Wednesday.

Mrs. David B. Anthony was guest of Mrs. William F. Brayton Wednesday.

Mr. Austin Peckham of Newport was in town Monday.

The new friezes at the "Oakland Farm" show ring are being put in place. Those already there show a coaching party bowling along country roads. The new one is opposite and shows a hunting scene, with foxes, hounds and riders.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Horace Peckham have recently been to New Bedford to visit Mrs. George Gardner.

Mrs. Minot A. Steele was guest Tuesday of Mrs. George L. Church of Tiverton.

Mr. Joseph H. O'Neil, Jr., of Boston is spending a vacation in Portsmouth at the O'Neil home at Stone Bridge.

ORPHEUS SOCIETY ELECTION.

Dr. Luther Retires as President and Colonel King Chosen in His Stead.

Wednesday evening the Orpheus Male Singing Society held its annual meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year. A large number of active members were present, and in spite of the fact that owing to illness the last two concerts were abandoned, much enthusiasm was shown for the coming season, next fall. The treasurer's report showed a small balance to the credit of the society, and numerous letters were read from associate members, renewing subscriptions and offering encouragement for a successful year.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. J. H. Barney, Jr., for the use of Appolo hall and a Steinway piano at rehearsals, and the society also voted an expression of sympathy for Mr. James F. Murdea, an active member, who is ill at the Newport Hospital.

The old officers were re-elected with the exception of Dr. H. H. Luther, who felt that he could not continue as president, although he will still make things prominent in the first tenor section. The list of officers elected follows:

President—Colonel Frank P. King.
Secretary—Joseph Pearson.
Treasurer—M. W. Basford.
Musical Director—H. S. Hendy.

The new president of the society is a charter member, has made a record as colonel of the Artillery company for attendance at drills, and is expected to do likewise for a high average at the society's meetings and rehearsals.

Mr. Hendy spoke enthusiastically of the good work which might be done in the future.

A committee consisting of Victor Baxter, John R. Austin, Edward Lawton, H. S. Hendy and Fred Harry was appointed to revise the by-laws and make a few additions which the experience of the past three years seemed to warrant.

KEEGAN—HALL.

According to the Fall River Herald, Mr. Bernard J. Keegan of that city and Miss Ada Hall of Newport, employed as a compositor at the Fall River News office, were married Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Church by Rev. M. J. Cooke. They left immediately after the ceremony on their honeymoon and on their return will reside on Grove street. Miss Hall was formerly a compositor in the Daily News Office and some time since, with her sister, went to Fall River, where they have been employed in the Fall River News composing room.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given Monday evening in honor of Miss Daisy S. Campbell by a large number of friends at her home on Thames street. There were piano selections by Mrs. Jennie Merry and Miss May Fogarty and Mr. Robertson of the Training Station, and singing by Miss Margaret Oulkins of Warren, Mass., Miss Elizabeth Goodrich of Boston, Mr. P. J. Gibbons and Mr. J. Berlinmack of the Torpedo Station. A buffet supper was served at midnight, after which dancing and games were continued until an early hour in the morning. The hostess was assisted in entertaining her guests by Misses Jennie Cassidy and Loretta Fogarty.

SUMMER SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED.

Commodore James Issues Program for the Annual Cruise.

A Marked Departure From Recent Years in New York Yacht Club's Port-to-Port Runs.

Commodore Arthur Curtiss James of the New York Yacht Club, under general order No. 2, has issued the program for the annual cruise of the squadron. There is a marked departure from recent years in the port-to-port runs, as in returning from Vineyard Haven to Newport there will be a call at New Bedford. Years ago the squadron made an annual call at the old whaling port, and at times there were races there, but of late years New Bedeford has not been included in the itinerary.

Newport will have the yachts a longer time than in any recent cruise. The squadron will arrive here Saturday, remain over Sunday, sail to the Vineyard Monday morning, return here on the following Wednesday and remain until the cruise is disbanded Saturday morning.

The squadron will rendezvous off Glen Cove Thursday, August 4, and that afternoon there will be a run to Huntington. From Huntington the run will be to New London, the longest of the cruise.

The Astor Cups will be sailed for off Newport Thursday, August 11, after the squadron's return from New Bedford, and the King's Cup Friday, August 12. The commodore's order in full is as follows:

Flagship Aloha, New York, June 16, 1910.

General Order No. 2.—The program for the cruise, weather permitting, will be as follows:

The squadron will rendezvous off station No. 10, Glen Cove, at noon on Thursday, August 4. Squadron run, Glen Cove to Huntington.

Captains will report on board the flagship at 5 p. m.

Reception on board the flagship at 9 p. m.

Friday, August 5, squadron run, Huntington to New London.

Saturday, August 6, squadron run, New London to Newport.

Sunday, August 7, at Newport. The squadron will dress ship at morning colors.

Monday, August 8, squadron run, Newport to Vineyard Haven.

Tuesday, August 9, squadron run, Vineyard Haven to New Bedford.

Wednesday, August 10, squadron run, New Bedford to Newport.

Thursday, August 11, at Newport. Races for Astor cups.

Friday, August 12, at Newport. Race for the King's Cup. The squadron will illuminate at 9 p. m.

Saturday, August 13. The squadron will be disbanded.

The preparatory signal for squadron runs will be two guns fired in rapid succession by the flagship and the display at the foretopmast head of the code letter "P" over the signal indicating the next port. The start will be made promptly one hour later from a line previously established by the regatta committee, at which time the preparatory signal will be hauled down on board the flagship.

The regatta committee will issue instructions for the runs from port to port and for other racing events.

The flag officers' cups will be sailed for during the cruise.

Races for Owl and Gamecock colors will be held, the date to be announced later.

Captains are requested to supply their vessels with New York Yacht Club night signals.

Captains and their guests will be welcome on board the flagship at all times.

Particular attention is invited to the club routine and to the signal code as recently amended and appearing in this year's club book.

Captains are requested to forward the names of their guests to the fleet captain as early as possible. The complete list will be sent ashore to the club station on the arrival of the squadron at the several ports, for the convenience of members.

Arthur Curtiss James,
Commodore.

Franklin A. Plummer,
Fleet Captain.

The fourth general meeting of the yacht club for the year will be held on board flagship Aloha, off station 2, Thursday afternoon, June 23. At this meeting the details of the cruise will be discussed.
